

Govt lauds private sector

BY TOM BRIAN ANGURINI

Siraj Nyende a seeds inspector at the Ministry of Agriculture Animal Industry and Fisheries says private sector is very vital in transforming agriculture from subsistence to large scale.

Nyende made the remark at a meeting organised by Balton Uganda to highlight importance of farmers embracing high yielding seeds in order farm in large scale.

"Most of the high yielding seed varieties in the country are promoted by the private sector, this shows how important they are in transforming agriculture," he said.