

HARVEST MONEY EXPO 2026

By Eddie Ssejjoba

Pr Robert Kayanja of the Miracle Centre Cathedral, Rubaga, has rallied Ugandans to turn up in big numbers at Kololo Independence Grounds for the forthcoming Harvest Money Expo that is slated for February 27-29.

The pastor said by going for the expo, Ugandans will gain knowledge, discover new agricultural technologies and get opportunities to network with farmers and experts in the sector.

Entrance fee to the expo is sh10,000, with an additional sh10,000 to attend training sessions where experts will share knowledge about farming.

"Thank you, Vision Group, for organising the Harvest Money Expo. I appeal to everyone to attend," Pr Kayanja said. He said he has been to the past expos and training sessions, which he said benefited him a lot despite his tight schedules.

COURTESY VISIT

Pr Kayanja made the remarks on Thursday while speaking to a team from Vision Group. The team was led by the chief executive officer, Don Wanyama, who paid the pastor a courtesy visit at the Miracle Centre Cathedral, Rubaga in Kampala. The team intended to brief him about the Harvest Money Expo, given his position as one of Uganda's prominent farmers.

"I have learnt a lot through Harvest Money. We [Miracle Centre Ministries] are doing agricultural projects in Karamoja because we learnt something from the expo.

"I attended the expo which was at Namboole and I joined those lessons. Although my time was limited, I picked up knowledge that I knew would be implemented on our farms in Kiryandongo and Karamoja where we are doing agriculture," Kayanja said.

Kyanja urged Ugandans not to just do things without

VISION GROUP'S COMMITMENT

Vision Group CEO Don Wanyama commended Pr Kayanja for loving the Harvest Money Expo, saying Vision Group has been supporting his projects in Kiryandongo and Karamoja.

"We have been part of that story in our Harvest Money products. So we came here to invite him as a big farmer to join us for the expo at Kololo for three days. We have lots of experts to give you the necessary knowledge. You will learn from the many projects at our disposal like how to progress in piggery, fishing and coffee growing, among others," Wanyama said.

"When you attend the expo, you will find new technologies, new people you can work with, and you will learn how to build a cottage industry. I believe that God has given us this opportunity, so I am inviting all Ugandans to attend and attend it," the Miracle Centre Cathedral pastor said.

STRATEGIC AGRICULTURE

He said agriculture is both commercial and not for profit. It is food for the stomach and also a source of income. Wanyama commended Vision Group for highlighting their projects in Karamoja and Kiryandongo. He said the Harvest Money platform is pulling other platforms.

APPEAL TO THE YOUTH

"I appeal to the youth who have no money to support their relatives or friends. Some little facilitation to enable them attend the expo, even with a pen and a book to learn," Kayanja said.

"You heard Pr Kayanja making a case for this Harvest Money Expo. It is not just an expo, it is an opportunity for you to learn, gain knowledge, network and to understand new technologies," Wanyama said.
