Bādru Walusansa,
Commonwealth correspondent

Mulindwa is doing a good job in sports

I watched in awe a sports story about the newly constructed St Mary's 'Home of Talents' stadium, owned by business-man Lawrence Mulindwa. That the proposed stadium is expected to have as many as 30,000 fans is no small feat. In a country where sport facilities are given little or no attention by government, we must carry Mr Mulindwa shoulder high!

As many other rich Ugandans waste away in night clubs, throwing money at thirsty followers, here is a Ugandan who has invested his savings to grow sports in our land.

Surely if medals are to be awarded, why can't we accord this sports-loving Ugandan more than a medal.

David Ariko,
arikodavid94@gmail.com

Scanned with CamScanner