

Nature can help us fight cancer

I react to the story, 'Defeating cancer starts with your farming priorities', (Saturday Monitor, April 7). For all the grief and sorrow that comes with the loss of a loved one, you have decided to pick a positive lesson from it. Instead of fear and hate, you have opted for courage and love.

As human beings, we should not forget that we cannot be healthy physically, mentally, spiritually and socially unless we are in harmony with other natural players in the ecosystem. We should endeavour to live sustainably. We are here to help each other live in harmony and not for material greed or accumulation. Only nature heals.
