KAMPALA. Twice, he was close to putting on the famed yellow jersey of KCCA, actually officially signing for the club in January last year.

But as things stand, he is set to feature against the Mike Mutebi-coached team for URA as the second round of the Azam Uganda Premier League kicks off tomorrow.

"He has been training well and is in the match day squad for Tuesday's game," confirmed URA coach Kefa Kisala yesterday.

The central defender who had established himself for the Cranes netting the winner against Ghana in the 2015 African Cup of Nations qualifier in November 2014 has been out of the game since 2014 with a shin injury.

The former Proline player last kicked a ball in December 2014 for SC Victoria University before signing for KCCA.

He, however, did not play a game for them after coaches Mutebi and Sam Simbwa opted to release him as a result of that injury.

The club then tried to resign him last December before he opted for the tax collectors.

"It was unfortunate that the deal didn't go through but I am now focussed on my new club and will sure do my best if selected," he noted yesterday.

URA are in fourth position on the log five points behind KCCA who lead the table with 29 points from 15 games.
