

Locals warned on feeding

JINJA. The Kyabazinga, William Gabula Nadiope IV, has warned his subjects against adopting poor feeding habits. Speaking at the opening of the first Busoga Kingdom parliament at Bugembe last week, the Kyabazinga said eating fatty foods, oil, much salt and sugar are catalysts for diseases such as diabetes and pressure. He also urged Basoga to plant trees and promote cleanness in their families to curb diseases such as cholera, typhoid and diarrhoea. The theme for this year's parliament is 'Establishment of internal systems within Busoga Kingdom'.
