

Helping out. Kamuli residents get sickle cell testing machine

Grateful. Parliament Speaker Rebecca Kadaga (right) and Health minister Ruth Aceng (left) receive the sickle cell testing and screening machine from Bank of Africa managing director Arthur Isiko (centre) donated to the Sickle Cell Association in Kamuli during the World Sickle Cells Day celebrations in Kamuli Town last week. Ms Kadaga hailed the bank for its generosity, calling for proper use and maintenance of the Shs37 million machine. Mr Isiko called for early diagnosis of the disease through regular health checks and more investment in modern medical equipment for proper examination and results so as to reduce the disease burden.
